

Did you know that colon cancer is the No. 2 cancer killer in Kentucky. But did you also know that 9 out of 10 colon cancer deaths may be prevented or cured with regular checks? If you are age 50 or older, talk to your doctor about getting checked for colon cancer. New healthcare laws make many of these tests low-cost, or free. Don't wait – early colon cancer may have no symptoms. Talk to your doctor, and visit www.kycolon.org for more information. Now you know, now you can.
